Homeowners with septic systems are occasionally presented with problems and it is often not clear what the cause might be. New Jersey Septic Management

Group has the equipment and experience to fully investigate any issue, relating to septic systems. Whether there is a complaint about "a foul smell" in the basement, a higher than normal liquid level in the septic tank or an especially wet area in the back yard, our staff can investigate the situation and objectively evaluate the best course of action. Introducing a video camera into the piping network often answers a lot of questions but sometimes problem components are buried too deeply and a small backhoe is needed. In either case, NJSMG has everything necessary to resolve almost any problem.

After a determination has been made as to the direct cause of a problem, it is possible for us to give an estimate for maintenance or repairs, as needed. If permits are needed before any work can be done, our office staff can walk the homeowner through the process.
